

Evaluation from Mission Immersion Group January 2024

Question asked: After this experience, how do you explain the Missionary Charism of the MSSP?

I enjoyed how the priests and brothers all scattered around to sit and share conversations at different tables, even with our group. They never sat next to the same person. We all moved around and felt like one happy family. (T.S.)

The MSSP has a missionary charism as their ethos. I can vouch that this missionary charism is carved in all the members' hearts, those I have met. The way they lovingly interact with the needy can be seen in their eyes and in their work. (L.A.)

After this experience I can say that now I am part of the MSSP Lay Community which is in line with my beliefs. (C.A.)

Being the hands and feet of Jesus. Meeting people where they are at and offering them a helping hand. (M.B.)

Recommended for those looking and / or wanting to fulfil the desire of how to help others. (V.B.)

For me the missionary is alive, the community is alive. (S.A.)

It's the give, give, giving without asking for anything back – except, maybe, for commitment. (M.G.)

Generous; People focused; Visionary; Practicing what they preach; Teachers of God's word, Life skills, Giving back, Community spirit. (Ma.V.)

The MSSP is providing missionary works where it is needed most in the world. Feeding and helping the most vulnerable in society. Linked with Jesus' way and teachings. (Mi. V.)

Very 'hands on.' A society that goes out to communities and helps in the most practical ways possible. Not just a society who sets up a parish and waits for the people to come to them. A society where the members in their work are very caring, patient, forgiving. Very 'Jesus like.' (C.B.)

Strong faith. (J.W.).
