in a nutshell

Who Do You Say I Am? Jesus asks his disciples this question in today's Gospel. He asks us the same question. He is not seeking a textbook response or for us to repeat what others have said about him. He wants to hear our personal response. May we answer his questions as truthfully as possible, and then listen as he speaks to us.

we pray for all who are sick or suffering and those parishioners unable to be among us this weekend, especially, Chris Nolet, Marilyn, John Laan, Harry Heerings, Pat Henshaw, Fr Pat Purcell

For those who have died recently: and those whose anniversary occur at this time.

The Eucharist should be honoured not only during great celebrations, but also through the silent fidelity of those who accompany the Lord with a humble and quiet friendship that is nourished day by day. (St. Manuel Gonzalez Garcia)

Let us fix our gaze on the Blood of Christ, and let us know that it is precious to his Father because it was poured out for our salvation and it brought the grace of repentance to all the world. (Pope St. Clement I)

Adoration, spend time in the presence of the Holy Eucharist: Tuesday at 5:00pm & Friday 8:00am. Yarra Junction: Thursday at 6:00pm. Confessions available during Adoration.

Stewardship Corner

"Or who has given the Lord anything that he may be repaid?" - ROMANS 11:35

St. Paul reminds us of a central fact of stewardship. We cannot give God anything - He already owns it all. God made everything, including us. Since we are made in His image, we too, are called to be generous. How we use our God-given gifts becomes our gift back to Him. Gratitude for all we have been given opens our hearts to joyful generosity! And, through our generosity, we just may be the answer to someone else's prayer.

Something to make you smile!

A little old woman who is devout Catholic lives next door to a loud-mouthed atheist. Every morning the lady goes to her front porch and shouts, "Praise the Lord." Every day the atheist neighbour can't help himself and shouts back, "There is no God!" The lady begins to experience financial hardship with cost-of-living rises and buying her weekly groceries becomes more difficult. However, every morning she continues to go out on her front porch and asks God for help with her groceries and shouts, "Praise the Lord!" One morning she discovers three bags of groceries on her porch and immediately yells, "Praise the Lord!" At that moment the atheist jumps out from behind some bushes and says, "Ha, got you. There's no God. I bought those groceries for you." The lady looks at him and smiles. Then she shouts even louder, "Praise the Lord! Not only did you provide for me, Lord, you also made Satan pay for the groceries!"

Readings Reflection

'Oh, the Depths!'

"Oh, the depth of the riches and wisdom and knowledge of God!" Paul exclaims in today's Epistle. Today's Psalm, too, takes up the triumphant note of joy and thanksgiving. Why? Because in the Gospel, the heavenly Father reveals the mystery of His kingdom to Peter.

With Peter, we rejoice that Jesus is the anointed Son promised to David, the one prophesied to build God's temple and reign over an everlasting kingdom (see 2 Samuel 7).

What Jesus calls "my Church" is the kingdom promised to David's son (see Isaiah 9:1–7). As we hear in today's First Reading, Isaiah foretold that the keys to David's kingdom would be given to a new master, who would rule as father to God's people.

Jesus, the root and offspring of David, alone holds the kingdom's keys (see Revelation 1:18; 3:7; 22:16). In giving those keys to Peter, Jesus fulfills that prophecy, establishing Peter—and all who succeed him—as holy father of His Church.

His Church, too, is the new house of God—the spiritual temple founded on the "rock" of Peter, and built up out of the living stones of individual believers (see 1 Peter 2:5).

Abraham was called "the rock" from which the children of Israel were hewn (see Isaiah 51:1–2). And Peter becomes the rock from which God raises up new children of God (see Matthew 3:9).

The word Jesus uses—"church" (ekklesia in Greek)—was used in the Greek translation of the Old Testament for the "assembly" of God's children after the Exodus (see Deuteronomy 18:16; 31:30).

His Church is the "assembly of the firstborn" (see Hebrews 12:23; Exodus 4:23–24), established by Jesus' exodus (see Luke 9:31). Like the Israelites, we are baptized in water, led by the Rock, and fed with spiritual food (see 1 Corinthians 10:1–5).

Gathered at His altar, in the presence of angels, we sing His praise and give thanks to His holy name.

The Church: The Sacrament of Communion

Why is the Church called the “Sacrament of Communion”?

Because there is one bread, we who are many are one body, for we all partake of the one bread. (1 Cor 10:17)

The Church is the Sacrament of Communion because of her unique and intimate relationship both within humanity and with God himself. The Church is fundamentally a community of men and women united in Christ’s fullness of grace as Head of his Mystical Body.

The Church’s communion — in Greek, koinonia, includes both an invisible dimension (intimate communion among the Persons of the Blessed Trinity and all humanity) and the visible dimension (communion in the teaching of the Apostles, the Sacraments, and in the hierarchical order). This communion, then, implies a spiritual solidarity among the members of the Church inasmuch as they are members of one Body, united in Christ. The union of the Church with Christ is described in Scripture as that of a Bride with her Bridegroom.

This communion is above all a gift from God, a new relationship between the members of the Church and God that has been established in Christ and is communicated through the Sacraments and also extends a new relationship of humans among themselves. It is through this communion that God seeks to gather all of humanity to him in order to draw them toward eternal salvation—the ultimate unity of the human race rooted in heavenly glory.

Through Baptism the faithful are incorporated into a Body—the Church—which the risen Lord builds up and sustains through the Eucharist. The Eucharist, the root and centre of the community, is the source of communion among the members of the Church; it unites each one of them with Christ himself. “When we share in the body and blood of Christ we come what we receive” (St. Leo the Great).

By giving us his Body, the Lord transforms us into one Body: the Church. Hence, St. Paul’s identification of the Church with the Body of Christ means that the Church expresses herself principally in the Eucharist. While present everywhere, the Church is yet One, just as Christ is one.

From the Didache Bible

772 It is in the Church that Christ fulfils and reveals his own mystery as the purpose of God’s plan: “to unite all things in him.” St. Paul calls the nuptial union of Christ and the Church “a great mystery.” Because she is united to Christ as to her bridegroom, she becomes a mystery in her turn. Contemplating this mystery in her, Paul exclaims: “Christ in you, the hope of glory.”

775 “The Church, in Christ, is like a sacrament—a sign and instrument, that is, of communion with God and of unity among all men. “The Church’s first purpose is to be the sacrament of the inner union of men with God. Because men’s communion with one another is rooted in that union with God, the Church is also the sacrament of the unity of the human race. In her, this unity is already begun, since she gathers men “from every nation, from all tribes and peoples and tongues”; at the same time, the Church is the “sign and instrument” of the full realization of the unity yet to come.

776 As sacrament, the Church is Christ’s instrument. “She is taken up by him also as the instrument for the salvation of all,” “the universal sacrament of salvation,” by which Christ is “at once manifesting and actualizing the mystery of God’s love for men. “The Church “is the visible plan of God’s love for humanity,” because God desires “that the whole human race may become one People of God, form one Body of Christ, and be built up into one temple of the Holy Spirit” (Bl. Paul VI).
